First Presbyterian Church

Centennial Hymn - - - - - Anne W. Young

Packer, we see thy beauty never-failing,
In strength serene above the restless throng;
Thy towers to us a symbol of far leading,
Thy garden calls us like a well-loved song.

Hither we came in days of happy childhood,
For work and play where peace made fast the walls;
Where friendship set a music to endeavor,
And vision wrought the light of solemn halls.

O God to Whom we dedicate all learning,
Grant us, we pray, Thy wisdom and Thy grace;
And make our school, where oftentimes we have found Thee,
Revered within our hearts, a holy place.

VALEDICTORY - - - - - MARCIA ELLEN BABBIDGE

The Old Gray Ivied Walls - - - - - Marion Loder, '87

Sing of the old gray ivied walls,
Sing of the garden green,
Sing of the happiest school-girl days
The dear old walls have seen.

Just as the Ivy clings and climbs,
E'en to thy tow'rs above,
So our hearts cling close to thee,
Packer, the school we love!

What spirit in our Packer life
So binds us heart to heart,
That in our Alma Mater's love
Each daughter finds her part?

It is her benediction blest
Who gave the Packer birth!
Her children know nor East nor West
They circle round the earth!
Her children know nor East nor West
They circle round the earth.

Be true to the Packer crimson, girls,
In love and loyalty,
Let Packer be proud of the girls she loves
Wherever her girls may be!
